Dear colleagues,

We would like to inform you that the 23rd International Research-to-Practice Conference “YOUNG MUSICOLOGISTS” will be held on March 29–31, 2024 at the R. Glier Kyiv Municipal Academy of Music (Kyiv, Ukraine); this year, it will be held online via Internet communication technologies (Zoom).

Undergraduate, postgraduate, and doctoral students of all art education institutions can participate in the Conference.

The main questions to be discussed:

- relevant historical issues of the development of musical culture;
- theoretical aspects of the study of Ukrainian and world music;
- relevant issues of music education and performing arts;
- relevant issues of interrelations between Ukrainian and Western European musical cultures;
- the integration of various national musicology and performing schools into the contemporary European context.

The conference abstracts will be available in electronic form. The best presentations, according to the Organizing Committee, will be included in the collection of scientific articles “Kyiv Musicology”. Requirements for abstracts are enclosed with this letter.

Working languages of the Conference are Ukrainian, English.

To participate in the Conference:

– until February 25, 2024, submit an application for participation and an abstract in electronic form to the email address kyivmusicology@glieracademy.org (in the Subject of the email indicate the last name of the participant);

– until March 15, 2024, confirm the participation by email.

Teachers and students of art education institutions are invited to participate in the Conference.
